SkyWork relies on AVIAREPS' expertise in the Austrian market

General Sales Agent to promote Vienna – Bern route

9 December 2011

SkyWork and AVIAREPS have announced their cooperation in the Austrian market. With immediate effect, AVIAREPS takes over all sales and marketing activities in Austria on behalf of the airline from Switzerland. The leading representation company will professionally promote SkyWork's services between Vienna and Bern and take care of all market enquiries from its Vienna-based office.

SkyWork operates six weekly services from Vienna to Bern. Flights are on offer from Mondays to Fridays and on Sundays. Departure in Vienna is scheduled at 18:00 hours with arrival in Bern at 19:35 hours. Return flights are available in the earlier afternoon with departure in Bern at 15:40 hours and arrival in Vienna at 17:15 hours.

Bern is the fourth biggest city in Switzerland and the de-facto capital of the country. Besides its economic importance, Bern and the correspondent canton have a lot to offer. The historic old town, a museum for famous painter Paul Klee and the beautiful alpine surroundings invite guests for a short break.

SkyWork is a privately owned Swiss airline operating flights from its hub in Bern. Currently 11 destinations throughout Europe are connected with 3 DASH-8 Q400 and 4 Dornier 328-110, conveniently carrying a maximum of 72 passengers. Among the existing destinations are major European cities such as Amsterdam, Barcelona, Rome and Vienna. SkyWork recently announced eager plans to further expand its route network. A high quality of service is the particular focus of SkyWork to cater for both business and leisure travelers' needs. SkyWork is also the first airline to keep iPads at hand for its passengers.

SkyWork is the new client to rely on the market expertise of AVIAREPS. With immediate effect AVIAREPS takes over the official representation in Austria.
